

Opening a book
for the first time
is like opening a door
and being transported
somewhere new.